From the Depths of the Ocean Comes a Luxurious Skin Treatment Formulated by Two Women Pharmacists

LOS ANGELES -- During their extensive careers as pharmacists, Jasmine Newman and Parva Elihu have helped thousands of people on the path to well being. They were always intrigued by the idea of creating a formula for beautiful, glowing skin.

"All women share a universal desire," says Jasmine. "We want to shine."

With their vast knowledge of both chemically derived and natural ingredients, Jasmine and Parva began collaborating and experimenting with a variety of elements which, when combined, would make a woman shine.

The result of their inspired collaboration is Caviar Cream. Why caviar? "Caviar," Parva explains, "is a dense mass of eggs, each containing the cells, protective membrane and nutritive elements that produce life."

But as trained pharmacists, the pair knew that as enriching and rejuvenating as their product line was, a glowing exterior also requires a healthy interior. For that reason, the Caviar Cream regime includes vitamin supplements, a first in the skin care industry.

In addition to caviar, Earth Zone's Day Cream contains Vitamins E and C, wheat amino acid and UV protection. Earth Zone's Night Cream contains caviar extract, hydroquinone (bleaching agent), Vitamin C, cucumber extract and potato extract. Eye Cream is made from caviar extract, Vitamins C and E, beeswax and lecithin.
